

Let's do this Together

These are unprecedented times and will, I'm sure, be challenging for both parents and children. The key is to have patience and try and adapt as best that you can. Focus on pleasurable and fun activities your child will be able to complete with enjoyment. They will love having the extra time with you and may even remember this period as the best time of their lives.

The Australian Curriculum is available online and has a dedicated space for parents. There are resources to explain the expected achievement standards for each year level to help parents understand the depth of content.

<https://www.australiancurriculum.edu.au/parent-information/>